OUR SERVICES INCLUDE

■ DSEAR Assessments

The Dangerous Substances and Explosive Atmospheres Regulations (DSEAR) 2002, require businesses to manage and control risks associated with hazardous substances. These regulations protect employees and the public from fires, explosions and structural damage caused by dangerous materials. DSEAR applies to workplaces handling substances such as flammable liquids, compressed gases and combustible dusts.

■ Mental Health First Aid - (RQF) / SCQF Level 5

This training course provides employers with enough knowledge and skill to promote a positive impact in the workplace. By raising awareness and promoting a positive mental health culture, the qualification can contribute to a more supportive and inclusive environment for employees, therefore producing a positive and productive workplace. The qualification is assessed through a practical demonstration and a multiple-choice paper. Successful candidates receive a regulated certificate, valid for three years.

■ Fire Risk Assessments

We carry out detailed, site specific fire assessments that go beyond simple checklists. Each assessment is completed by a competent professional and tailored to the layout, occupancy and fire risks present at your premises. Our process is based on current legislation and recognised national guidance, ensuring your legal obligations are fully met. Clear, actionable reports. You'll receive a concise report with practical, prioritised recommendations, no jargon, no confusion. Support with remedial actions. If improvements are needed, we will help you develop cost-effective realistic solutions that prioritise safety and compliance without unnecessary disruption.

■ IOSH Accredited DSEAR Awareness Training

In addition to our assessment services, we offer IOSH-accredited DSEAR awareness training. Under DSEAR Regulation 9, employers are legally required to inform and train employees on the risks of dangerous substances and the controls in place, this training helps your business...

- Promote a safety-first culture by educating employees on their responsibilities.
- Reinforce your DSEAR risk assessment with relevant, business-specific knowledge.
